--What if an effective, relatively inexpensive and readily accessible treatment was possible right now to reduce fatigue and brain fog?

--What if all that was standing between you and others receiving that treatment was your doctor's lack of knowledge?

Together, let's get patients a study they can print out and take to their doctor.

This International Clinical Trial will be lead by Open Medicine Institute, California, US with Dr. Andreas Kogelnik and Dr. David Kaufman in collaboration with Simmaron Research, Nevada, US, Dr. Dan Peterson and Gottfries Clinic AB, Gottenburg, Sweden. The Trial will include B12 and Folate supplementaion in patients with and without a MTHFR or methylation mutation.
